Set up/Take down: this involves some physical labor. You'll work with a team to set up tents & staging, tables, chairs, signs or decorations. Instruction will be provided. Some team members may be asked to assist with a priority set up or to assist in removing garbage bags

Kids Area: work with kids with simple outdoor games, set up, organization, etc. Help the kids to be safe and have a good time. If needed, work with a ministry to help with messages given to kids about serving the Lord. Pray with kids.

Kitchen Team: (Cooking/Serving) we cook burgers/hot dogs, which are very easy. They are precooked and just need to be placed on grill for a couple of minutes. We do grill hundreds of both. People can switch out as needed. We use 2 large commercial grills. Food servers unwrap bun packages, get bags of chips, place them within a bag and hand distribute behind a table. Some cleaning or retrieving items from a refrigerated trailer. We feed everyone free!

Security: Don't worry it's not that kind of security. Whenever you have lots of people there are potential problems to watch out for. That's where you come in. Observe the festival patrons with a watchful eye. Interact with people by acting as a host, answering questions or giving directions. Help out when Bless Fest staff could use a hand. Be the type of security that is a blessing to others.

Hospitality: the main duty is to be all an around person who can greet guests, help non-profits providing assistance in setting up or to provide bottled water to anyone in need. Also act as a kind of a floater person who may be able to get a message to coordinators or to a band stage. You may also be called to periodically check bathrooms, replacing toilet tissue, soap, or do minor cleaning, if needed. You may be needed to run to a local store for needed supplies.

Prayer: work in the prayer tent or pray at the grounds. Work along with prayer coordinators at the tent, meeting people and asking what their needs may be. Praying (& counseling) directly with anybody that comes for prayer, or directly for a band or people sharing on a stage. There are male and female prayer team members. They work as a team, leading people in decisions to serve the Lord. The prayer tent is set up on Friday and Saturday morning for full operation from Noon until approx. 7 pm on Saturday.
